PREFACE

GIFT
AUG 23 '56

This is our school, Wakefield. Suitably named for the birthplace of the famous American, George Washington, our school was built in a field adjacent to a grove of trees, a location where Washington may once have surveyed.

It is said that the stars on our American Flag came from the Washington Coat of Arms. Starstones, small five-pointed fossils found in England, the former home of the Washington family, formed the pattern for the stars on our flag. We have named your yearbook Starstone because of its close relationship to George Washington.

It is the hope of all of us to make our school a model of our American ideals. As Wakefield is developed in many new ways each year, may your Starstone also be enlarged and perfected.

FOREWORD

In company with the students and staff of Wakefield, I take great pride in our school and its accomplishments. In two short years we have done much to build a school which enlists the affection and commands the respect of all those connected with it. It has been especially gratifying to see the school finding an important place in community life and thinking, and at times receiving even state and national recognition for some of its activities. We could not have built so soundly and rapidly had it not been for the friendly and constructive way in which students and staff have worked together toward commonly held goals. This pictorial record of the 1954-1955 school year is another example of joint student-faculty endeavor. It is my hope that this book will serve effectively to document the life of the school. To the extent that it does this it will assume importance—may this be an important book!

Our School

As we build our own characters and personalities, so are we building the character and traditions of our school.
We, ourselves, are growing as we watch our school grow.

Talking, laughing and studying, we enter Wakefield through the foyer.

Our halls hear many things. The morning voices of students, excited and apprehensive, as we come into school; anxious and urgent voices as we begin the day with those necessary errands . . . getting a ticket for the game or an excuse signed in the office or a long lab apron or some graph paper in the school store.

Our money changes hands in the school store—$$$ for Wakefield.

Is Mr. Kier the office's big attraction?

. . . hurrying through the halls to homeroom we arrive just in time to salute the flag. With a look of relief as the bell rings, we go to first period.

"One nation, under God . . ."

The dead language turning over in its grave.

sh-BOOM* * * *

Baldly the cafeteria awaits the crowd, as the hungriest people approach. Soon it is engulfed by hungry students joining an endless lunch line, eating, finishing homework, and taking a moment out of the routine of classes to relax and talk to friends. Going as hurriedly as we came, we dash to fifth period, leaving the janitors and kitchen staff to clean up and prepare another day's meals, and leaving the cafeteria standing lonesome and beaten, thinking of the lunch periods to come.

Wakefield's modern auditorium and library show the progress of our school. Our library, which is the biggest and best equipped high school library in the country, is in constant use, while our newly finished auditorium silently awaits the long procession of choir concerts, drama club productions, class nights and eventually our graduation.

Our gyms are the scene of many activities. An average day in our gyms includes classes, G.A.A. and intramural meetings, Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y activities, Faculty Night, and Junior and Senior High basketball games.

On special occasions the gyms are the scene of pep rallies and holiday assemblies, plans and decorations and finally the big dance.

Our athletic field was christened in George Mason's favor, 7-6.

As we leave the stately halls of Wakefield, our voices are subdued, for we have worked hard and done our best in another school day. But reminders of our school remain with us as we leave to prepare for tomorrow, which is already imminent.

This is a shortcut?

rush to the bus finally ends our day.

The Faculty

In making us the outstanding product of an outstanding school, our teachers acquaint us with humor, a sense of honor and discipline and equip us with the knowledge and experience necessary to attain the goal of success.

MR. T. EDWARD RUTTER
Superintendent of Schools

It seems only a few short months since I stood on an open field and heard architects and members of our School Board describe what kind of school could be built on the commanding site where Wakefield now stands.

Two and a half years in time and three and a half million dollars in money have been required to bring that day's vision to reality. Now your splendid building is complete. Next year your curriculum will be expanded to include a full high school course.

I congratulate both faculty and students on the fine beginnings which have been made at Wakefield. You are building a great institution.

We on the school administrative staff are proud of Wakefield and of your fine faculty. We always remember, however, that the students are the heart of any school. The excellent classrooms were built for you and the weeks and months of planning for the instructional program were all in your interest.

It is a real pleasure to greet you in the confidence that you will truly benefit from all that is offered at your wonderful Wakefield.

MR. T. EDWARD RUTTER
Superintendent of Schools

BOARD OF EDUCATION: Dr. Barnard Jay, Mr. Warren Cax, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Cambell, Dr. L. Clark Keating, Dr. Erwin R. Draheim.

"... congratulate our football team on the splendid display of sportsmanship at Mount Vernon ..."

The smiling face we see behind a bow tie in the hall belongs to the Principal of our school. Dr. Wilson attended Vincennes University and Indiana University before obtaining his B.A., M.A. and Ed.D. degrees at George Washington University in Washington, D. C.

He first came to Arlington in the same year he was married, 1945, as Army Editor to the Joint Chiefs of Staff and in 1950 became Associate Principal of our rival school, Washington-Lee.

Dr. Wilson has taught English and Social Studies in California and Washington, D. C. He is now teaching Educational Psychology and Philosophy at George Washington University. Adding more experience to his record, Dr. Wilson spent five years in the Army.

"Get me another hot dog and a Coke!"

No story of a school would be complete without mention of those who authorize and direct. Meet our administrators. Our jovial Associate Principal, Mr. Ralph Kier, is noted largely for his size and his bow ties. Mr. Kier works directly with Mrs. Mary Mare, Assistant Principal and Dean of Girls. Students who have ever been excused early will remember the trim lady with spectacles. Assisting many of us in planning a vocation is the genial Director of Guidance, Mr. Francis Campbell. Comprising the athletic faction are Mr. Mort Irwin, who, besides coaching our varsity baseball team is in charge of morning baseball team announcements, and Mr. Milo Sonen, Wakefield's capable Director of Athletics.

Did we fit you all in, Sir?

"Besides, that's where I went to college!"

"Did your parents sign this excuse?"

"Yes, and next year we play their varsity!"

"By the way, Dear, what was that in my lunch?"

The all-inclusive job of a teacher never ends. After teaching a carefully scheduled day there are always preparations for the next. Supervising, planning, counseling and co-ordinating, our teachers not only make our life at school instructive . . .

The Student Body

Complete with laughter, concentration and tests of our knowledge, each school day is composed of Juniors, Sophomores, Freshmen and the Junior High working together. We are the student body, modern students of today populating a modern school.

STUDENT COUNCIL

For forty-five minutes every school day six students are leading the council discussing and solving problems of our school. It is their responsibility to develop the kind of government that is most adaptable for the maximum efficient student participation in school affairs. The Student Council has sent representatives to conferences both regional and national throughout the year. Now at the end of our school year we can congratulate the officers for a job well done.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

The Inter-Club Council, made up of a representative from each club, meets twice a month to work on the Inter-Club Council projects, some of which are two school dances held in the fall and spring, a Christmas Decorating Contest, a variety show and the evaluation and organization of new clubs. We enjoy working to make Wakefield a better school, but our main project is to help the Student Government and you. The Inter-Club Council is one of the vital functions of the Student Government and we strive for the best.

Y-COUNCIL

Row 1: Mrs. Collins, V. Wev, K. Mumford, J. Fohy, J. Eigen, H. Tapprich. Row 2: S. Chinn, B. Wirin, J. Roemer, B. Neil, R. Russell, J. Miller.

The Y-Council, under the guidance of Mrs. Collins, acts as the coordinating body of all the Hi-Y and Tri-Y groups at Wakefield. Through this organization the Y clubs form a closer relationship with Y clubs in the area and ultimately throughout the nation. The Council consists of one elected representative and the President from each chapter. The responsibilities of the Y-Council include planning joint activities, setting Y standards and formulating policies and reviewing both membership applications and constitutions for each prospective Y Club.

Y CLUBS

The purpose of the organization known as the Young Men's Christian Association is to promote character and extend the influence of the church, school and community to high standards of Christian character. Working together to fulfill the purpose we better ourselves through projects for betterment of community and school.

Epsilon chapter of Tri-Hi-Y has devoted its time and efforts to several worthwhile activities within the school and community. Representing this active group at Wakefield were the decorated Christmas tree in 1953, the Epsilon Dance in 1954, confetti and streamers at Varsity football games, displays in foyer showcases, stockings filled with candy for orphans and the contribution of old clothes for the P.T.A. Apparel Shop.

OMEGA TRI-Y

Omego, one of Wakefield's newer Tri-Y's, was formed late last year by a nucleus of ten girls. Working together this year they have increased their membership and done several worthwhile community projects, which include a Christmas food basket for a needy family and a decorated Christmas tree for the children's ward of Arlington Hospital, and many services to the school, among which are good post decorations for all Varsity football games, many colorful Y bulletin boards for holidays and inter-Y projects, and decorations for the Y dance in February.

Sigma Tri-Hi-Y, sponsored by Miss Davidson, had an active year. Sigma's chief project for 1955 was the donation of a record library to the school. The records are of long standing and currently popular tunes for the use at dances, variety shows or other theatrical productions. They will be kept on shelves in the library and may be checked out by students for use at private parties. There will also be a foreign records section including records of Latin-America, France and other European countries that may be used in foreign language classes and club activities.

THETA TRI HI-Y

The members of Theto Tri-Y have completed many projects both interesting and beneficial to our school and community this year. The main effort inside the school was the selling of plastic Wokefield book covers, while their worthy community projects include several Christmas programs of homes for the aged, and the building and repoiring of toys for children at the District Troining School for Mentolly Retorded Children.

ZETA KAPPA TRI-Y

Zeta Kappa Tri-Y, new at Wokefield this year, recently organized its group of girls and began to plan projects for the coming year. With a start typical of the Y groups, the girls first selected a family for whom they can perform various services, made plans to visit certain homes for convalescent and bed-ridden children, and entertain people at homes for the aged. Zeta Kappa also secures advertisers for the Signal, Wokefield's newspaper, and has many more proposed activities for the present and the future.

BETA CHI TRI-Y

Chi Hi-Y was newly added to the other Hi-Y groups in Wakefield this year. Under the expert guidance of Mr. Diffenbaugh, our sponsor, we got the bid to sell Christmas trees for the Lion's Club during the holidays. The profit from this enterprise went toward helping needy children. In addition to several other service projects, Chi has kept Wakefield's bulletin boards free of out-dated posters and notices and is currently preparing directional signs for our halls. Even though this is our first year, we feel that we have accomplished much. Next year promises to be even more interesting.

Beta Chi, a chapter of Tri-Hi-Y newly formed this year, has grown to a group of twenty-two girls. Their recent projects include a large Thanksgiving basket for a needy family, collecting money for the Heart Fund, bake sales in the cafeteria and Christmas caroling at Anderson Clinic. Working with their sponsor, Mrs. Gibbs, the members of Beta Chi have completed worthwhile service projects, planned for the future and had fun.

RHO HI-Y

Due to the number of boys in Rho who are already quite active in athletics, school and outside activities, we have been handicapped for time. Nevertheless we have written a constitution for our group and operated the registration tables for the hospital drive. Rho is planning an extensive auto safety campaign in the future and is now helping out at basketball games.

THETA KAPPA JUNIOR TRI HI-Y

Under the leadership of president Pot Allison, and with the help of Mrs. Holleymon, who succeeded Mrs. Shelton as sponsor, the thirty girls of Theta Kappa Junior Tri-Hi-Y have worked on an Easter project for the children's ward of the Arlington Hospital and the display case for the Variety Show this year. Like many other groups they have held bake sales to finance their undertakings.

Delta Junior Tri-Hi-Y, one of the first Junior Tri-Y's at Wakefield, hopes to cultivate an interest in the Y clubs in the Junior High. Their record is a fine pattern for future Y clubs. They held a bake sale and the money raised went toward a food basket for a needy family. Planning with their sponsor, Mrs. Matthews, the girls have found recreational and service Y projects fun and educational.

11TH GRADE Y-TEENS

The eleventh grade Y-Teens, a club sponsored by the Y.W.C.A., is advised by Mrs. Gibbs. The girls meet on school time and at meetings plan and complete their various projects for the benefit of others. This year they have held bake sales, decorated bulletin boards, and entertained convalescent children and orphans.

Working industriously the tenth grade Y-Teens have completed many beneficial projects this year. They sponsored a Christmas party for underprivileged children in this area, worked on posters for the variety show auditions, and visited retarded children. It is hoped that next year the membership of this small but very active club will be increased.

JUNIOR HI Y-TEENS

The Junior High Y-Teens, a group organized for service, has worked on various projects during '54-'55. Some these were: publicizing the variety talent show, Ship Ahoy, making posters and decorating for the Inter-Club Council dances and other activities. Their sponsors are Miss Wood and Miss Russell.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Wakefield Girls' Athletic Association, organized late last spring, is open to all girls who obtain a total of one hundred athletic points. Some of the activities G.A.A. offers are hackey, archery, badminton, basketball, volleyball, shuffleboard and trampoline. Girls possessing five hundred points by participation in these sports receive their G.A.A. letter. This year the club sponsored seven play-days with other school, both junior and senior high, and several faculty-student games.

DEBATE CLUB

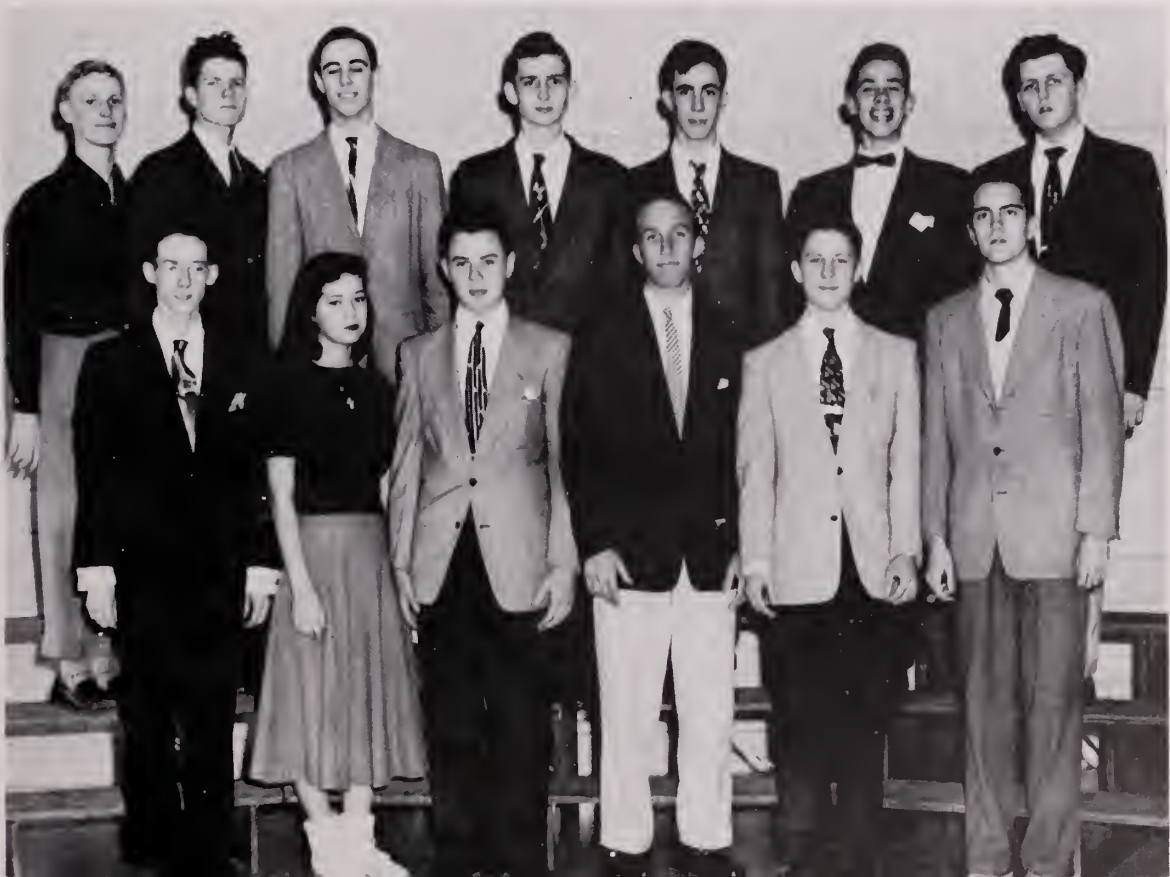

The Debate and Discussion Club, sponsored by Miss Keck, has won many honors for Wokefield. At the fall organizational meeting of the Northern Virginia Discussion League, Don Willey of Wokefield was elected League President. Wakefield invited the league members to a discussion at Wokefield in February.

Several members of the club have gone out for Varsity Debate and have joined the Northern Virginia Debate League. They competed for the right to represent the League at the state competitions at Charlottesville.

The club will attend the Spring Conference of George Washington University. For the first time, Wokefield is represented in the Discussion League and the G. W. Conferences.

"SHIP AHOY"

On March 25, "Ship Ahoy," the 1955 Variety Talent Show was presented to the students and parents of Wokefield. Produced and directed by Mr. and Mrs. Fox, the show, in three acts, depicted the adventures of the Schultzenheim family as they sailed around the world. Spiced with the adventures and romances of the older daughter and the problems of the younger, "Ship Ahoy" was replete with many varied acts representing countries all over the world. This combined to make it a very enterprising show.

One of the smaller but very active organizations at Wakefield is the Audio-visual Club. The group consists of thirteen boys, all of whom are interested in learning the operation and maintenance of all the audio-visual equipment used at Wakefield. These machines include motion picture projectors, victrolas, opaque projectors and slide projectors. The club, which has issued cards authorizing its members to operate these machines is under the leadership of Mr. Stemple and Mrs. Leighton.

AUDIO-VISUAL CLUB

"Thy Word shall be a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path."

We will long remember our study of the Lord's Prayer leading us through the whole Bible, the glorious recordings from the Messiah, greeting a promising spring morning at breakfast, films through which the Scripture lives, our fellowship and our growth in understanding.

The purpose of the Senior High Boys' Tumbling Club is that of developing physical skills beyond the height which is attainable through ordinary recreation. Among the aims of the members are individual strength, endurance, bodily health and discipline, suppleness and precision. The club is working toward the goal of maximum development as individuals in order to offer its services as a group for the purpose of entertainment.

BOYS TUMBLING CLUB

The purpose of the Girls' P.E. Leaders and Officials club is to teach girls to officiate the various sports activities offered at Wakefield.

Through this club girls have the opportunity to earn points toward their school letter as well as their G.A.A. emblem. In addition they may also qualify as rated Intramural Officials.

Rules are studied and practice in officiating is gained during club period as well as in the after school intramural program.

R. Stoneburner, F. Paxson, M. Orth, I. Dubbs, N. Khoury, W. Welsh.

The Wakefield Chapter of Distributive Education Clubs of America, a professional organization, is composed of students studying under the Distributive Education cooperating training program. Members enjoy many social activities, business contacts and participation in professional contests: sales demonstration, display, job appreciation and speech. The above persons are charter members of this chapter.

Wakefield's Golf Club is a large group, whose forty members are divided into groups of beginners, instructed by Mr. Robinson, and advanced players who work with Mr. Reese. The club has made progress in learning the fundamentals of golf, rules of etiquette for golfers, and special efforts to improve their game. Members have also participated in several intra-club tournaments.

FASHIONS AND MODELING CLUB

Freshman, Sophomore and Junior girls at Wakefield are offered a chance to improve their manners and appearance through the Fashions and Modeling Club. The club concentrates on the self-improvement of each member. The members have been visited by several professional models and speakers and hope to eventually give a fashion show.

Learning to dress properly and wear make-up becomingly is a necessary part of every girl's education. It seems that the seventh and eighth grade Fashions and Modeling Club plans to do just that. Their aims include bettering their etiquette, make-up, clothes and personality.

Among the many activities planned this year by the club were visits from models and a fashion show for the girls of Wakefield.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club, better known to its members as "Le Cercle Francais," was designed to acquaint students of French more intimately with France and its people by means of films, records, special speakers and field trips. The main event of the year is the club's visit to one of the best French restaurants in the area to give club members some first hand knowledge of French cuisine.

The Future Homemakers of America is a state and national organization. Members worked busily collecting toys for needy children, attending the state F.H.A. summer camp and planning a program for parents, a picnic and two dances for club members. Their goals for the year were: understanding the opportunities for individual growth through cooperative planning, group leadership and providing wholesome individual and group recreation.

The American Junior Red Cross is the junior membership of one of America's largest national service organizations. The club provides an opportunity for members to contribute their services in planning and preparing local, national, and international projects. These projects develop the gift of helping others and promote understanding among children of the world.

Some of the projects include sponsoring the annual school Red Cross enrollment drive, providing local and veterans' hospitals with recreational items and materials, and, on an international level, filling gift boxes and making kits and picture albums for children overseas.

The seventy-five members of the Seventh Grade Girls' Chorus meet as a club once a week. They have sung a variety of songs, popular, spiritual and choir arrangements in the Christmas assembly and the Spring Festival here at Wakefield. The majority of members plans to enter the Eighth and Ninth Grade Girls' Chorus next year.

SEVENTH GRADE GIRLS' CHORUS

SEVENTH GRADE GUIDANCE CLUB

The activities of the Seventh Grade Guidance Club this year chiefly centered around the sixth grade orientation program, seventh grade recreation, guidance bulletin boards, tutoring, the Junior Welcome Wagon and the student public relations committees. Among the other projects of this club were visiting the homes of new students, news sheets to elementary schools and orientation films for the purpose of acquainting new students with Wakefield and keeping area schools posted on Wakefield news.

VARIETY-TALENT CLUB

The boys and girls below represent the nucleus of an ever-growing and popular club, that of Variety Talent. Each year they present a spring variety show. The one for 1955 was Ship Ahoy!, appropriately named, for it was to launch all future productions.

The club is active enough to demand three sponsors: Mr. Dittenbough, Mrs. Fox and Mr. Lewis. They, along with the fifty-nine club members, have put forth their best for the year of '55.

A new addition to Wakefield's activities is the Radio-T.V. Club, which is sponsored by Mr. Clark. This year the members have worked toward introducing themselves to broadcasting techniques, both production and engineering. The aim of the club is to stay abreast of technical advances and apply the knowledge gainfully. Their method of accomplishing these goals is to conduct and participate in various activities concerned with radio and television.

BOYS ATHLETIC OFFICIALS CLUB

The Boys' Athletic Officials Club is composed of boys who are interested in furthering their interests in organized athletics and are desirous of fostering better relations and understanding between player and spectator through better game officiating. All activities in the program of the Boys' Intramural Sports Association are handled by members of the club. In addition, outstanding members of the group officiate games sponsored by the Arlington County Recreation Department.

The Square Dance Club includes members from all grades, although the majority are seventh and eighth graders. Their callers are Mrs. Heckman and Miss Harrison. They plan to have a professional caller visit them in the future, and to learn various dances from different parts of the country. All the members agree that square dancing forms both an enjoyable and interesting club.

The Chess Club is for those students who play chess and those desirous of learning. The club represents all grades with a total membership of fifty students. Activities of the Chess Club are personal challenges and intra-club tournaments on a grade level basis. Winners of the tournaments accept challenges from other students at Wakefield later in the spring. Plans are being made for a tournament against Washington-Lee and other schools.

The Wakefield Guide Club is composed of twenty-five regular guides and ten alternate guides. Chosen by the teachers, guides must have a high scholastic average in addition to good character and pleasing personality. The guides take visitors on tours of the building and are especially in demand in the spring for the orientation of incoming seventh graders. An important event late in 1954 was the guided tour of many European and Asiatic visitors through Wakefield.

STARSTONE

The staff of the Starstone, Wakefield's annual, was chosen late in the school year of 1954. Our first problems were choosing a name, getting advertisements and raising money to finance our book. Later came hard work, copy and candid, club and homeroom pictures, urgent letters to the printer and meeting deadlines. But, in producing your annual, which is an integral part of every high school, we have gained valuable experience in many ways and built a firm foundation for future Starstones.

Presenting both news and interesting features, our newspaper is an example of outstanding student journalism. The Signal, recently made a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, produces fifteen editions yearly under the direction of their sponsor, Mr. Mouré. Working industriously for their first year the staff produced, in addition to the regular issues, a dedication issue and several sports extras. Headed by Al Tote, the staff of the Signal works for one period every school day and often after school in order to meet their deadlines.

SMOKE SIGNAL

Twice each year the Junior High newspaper classes, under the direction of Mrs. Burnside take over production of our newspaper, the Signal, and put out the Smoke Signal. This is a smaller paper containing news and features pertaining to their grades. The Smoke Signal provides a valuable opportunity to younger students to gain experience for later publications.

Wokefield's literary magazine, the Pendulum, was so named because of the variety and flexibility of its contents. Having produced two editions in 1954 and one in 1955, the Pendulum, which is advised by Miss Richmond, is composed of poetry, essays, short stories and illustrations all created by students of every grade.

MUSIC GROUPS

The eighty-seven voice Wakefield choir has doubled its size since last year. It has given various concerts in the school and community containing all types of music: light, serious and sacred. Students will remember the choir's new blue-gray robes with which they performed on many occasions. Like any other group, the choir has officers and also robe custodians, librarians, business managers and others which are as important as the actual singers. The choir, which is under the direction of Miss Whittaker, performed in the school Christmas program in the newly completed auditorium, the Dedication assembly, the Spring Festival and the second All-County Music Festival.

MADRIGALS

In sixteenth century Europe a new type of song, known as a Madrigal, became popular. These songs were widely sung by all who could harmonize. At Wakefield there is an organized Madrigal group composed of six boys and six girls. These voices were selected on the basis of their ability to blend with each other. They have performed for churches, private organizations and the Wakefield student body on many occasions. Here is a fine foundation for a lasting tradition at our school.

SENIOR HIGH ORCHESTRA

The Wakefield Senior High School Band, composed of thirty-eight members, has just begun its career. This year the band performed at several area junior high schools as well as elementary schools. The members also participated in the Northern Virginia District Festival on March 19, the Spring Concert on March 31, at which the beginning wind class of eighteen students and the intermediate band of forty-four students combined as the Cadet Band, and took a field trip to observe the Army Band. Next year, under the direction of Mr. Lewis, there will be a uniformed marching band.

Wakefield's Orchestra of 1954 split into two orchestras this year, the Senior and Junior High Orchestras. The Senior High Orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Cooper, is composed of approximately forty students, whose activities include field trips to several elementary schools in the area. Recently they participated in the Spring Concert in April and the All-County Music Festival in May.

8TH AND 9TH GRADE GIRLS CHORUS

The Girls Chorus, which consists of approximately one hundred and fifty eighth and ninth grade girls, has grown rapidly during its two years here at Wakefield. It is divided into two periods, both of which are under the direction of Miss Whittaker. Their purpose is to enjoy music and to be trained for the choir and other musical groups. The chorus has performed in the school and community on many occasions, including the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Dedication Assemblies and the Arlington County Spring Music Festival.

Row 4: Newberry, Eppes, Bowling, Peters, Hickman, Honsell, Head, Royfield, Zirkle, Arkin, Cole, Brumback, Madagon, Rolston, McLaren, Sandbank, Dorobiala, Brink, Chose, Dobyns, Broward, Wright, Brown, Fleming, Thornberg, West.
Row 3: Williams, Burlingome, Appelmon, Coffey, Degon, Fowler, Frost, Groy, Herndon, Lewis, Marshall, Meister, Crump, Lee, Penland, Karman, Robberts, Proctor, M. Moyo, Hersey, Disque, Jennrich, Habson, McClain. Row 2: Steele, Mayo, Sanderson, Grammer, O'Flinn, Cohen, Modison, Crowley, Hittle, Jennings, Mangum, Beebe, McAlister, Simpson, Spitler, Weaver, Underwood, Lund, Ford, Frisbie, Covedo, Reece, Cogswell, Hough, Burchell. Row 1: Newlon, McGrow, Alley, Altizer, Sheel, Bond, Barker, Shriver, Strother, Jones, Adams, Parker, Grissord, Lovett, Godbee, Massey, Murroy, Milde, Moce, Boughmon, Post, Michaels, Rogers. Absent from picture: Burrage, G. Smith, Sutton, MocNoughton, Wall, Potter.

The Boys' Chorus, consisting of over one hundred boys, is the largest in the history of Arlington County. This is an honor in which every Wakefield student shows. The group has given a number of concerts, both at Wakefield and Elementary schools, and also various community functions in Arlington. Mr. Fox, the director of the Boys' Chorus, expects an even larger enrollment next year.

BOYS CHORUS

JUNIOR HIGH ORCHESTRA

The forty-five members of the Junior High Band operate on a program like that of the Senior High Band. The group is under the direction of Mr. Lewis, as is the Senior High Band, and meets for one period every school day. One of their chief activities in 1955 was taking part in the All-County Music Festival.

Supplementing the Senior High Orchestra at Wakefield is the Junior High Orchestra, also directed by Mrs. Caaper. The group has a program similar to that of the Senior High Orchestra and frequently visits primary schools in the area. It is interesting to note that the wind players in both groups double in the band and orchestra.

JUNIOR HIGH BAND

SCHOOL DANCES

A variety of dances, important extracurricular activities, were held this year. Among these the Valentine Dance and Christmas Dance sponsored by the SRC and JRC were the most outstanding. Other dances were the Masquerade Ball sponsored by the Publications and the Circus Matif Dance sponsored by the Y clubs. Music was furnished by a variety of professional orchestras, the Wakefield student Dance Band and records. A high spot of Wakefield's social year was the Student Government dance emceed by Herb Davis with the Four Lads.

Commemorating events both historical and religious, assemblies were held this year in both the gyms and the recently finished auditorium. Among these were the Thanksgiving, Christmas and Dedication assemblies. The music groups, under the direction of Miss Whittaker, Mrs. Cooper, Mr. Fox and Mr. Lewis, furnished incidental, supplementary entertainment. In addition, many pep rallies were held by the athletic teams and the cheerleaders, prior to important football and basketball games. Notable among these were the Beat W-L rally, and the opening contest with George Mason.

ASSEMBLIES

HOSPITAL DRIVE

On the night of November 17, students from Wokefield, W-L, and Folls Church, solicited the citizens of Arlington and nearby areas on behalf of Arlington Hospital. Due to Arlington's rapid growth the hospital has long been handicapped because of lack of space and beds. Organized by Area Chairmen and precinct captains, each solicitor was assigned to canvass a certain number of houses near his home. A total of $3,800 was raised by solicitation, and the Mediterranean Cruise, a dance sponsored by W-L and attended by students of both Wokefield and W-L.

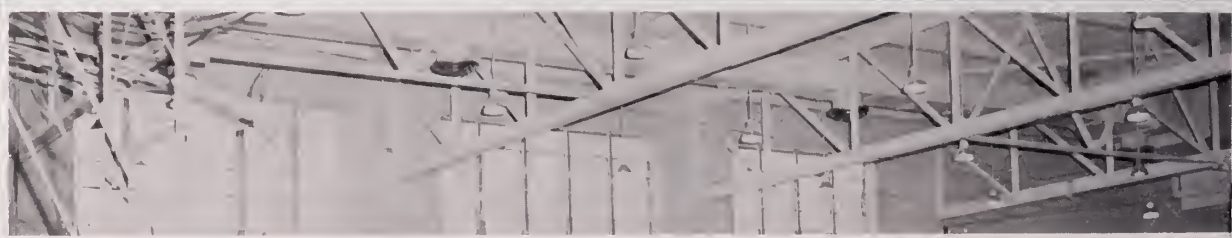

Busy day!

Just one slip and no P.T.A. bulletins to take home.

Sports

The student body is represented throughout Arlington and the nearby communities by our many outstanding athletic teams. Combined with capable coaching and the support of the student body the Warriors have established another part of our fine reputation.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Wakefield's '54-'55 Varsity Football Team had a successful season, displaying good sportsmanship in defeat as well as in victory. The Warriors were handicapped by inexperience, loss of several key first string players due to injuries and stiff competition with older high schools. Aided by an enthusiastic student body, an outstanding coaching staff and peppy cheerleaders, the Wakefield eleven is looking forward to an exciting season next year even though its schedule will be more difficult as Wakefield enters Group I competition.

CROSS COUNTRY

Cross country was one of Wakefield's many new sports this year. Unlike track, it consists of only one event, a distance run of one and one-half to two miles. The winner of the meet is determined by the team having the lowest score. The points are tabulated by the two finishing positions of each school's first five runners. Though it is not really a spectator sport, Wakefield's cross country course was planned to be as visible as possible and students can be assured of an interesting and exciting afternoon.

The squad, coached by Mr. Stein, consisted of sixteen boys, a number of whom ran two very successful meets as a Junior Varsity, placing second in the Northern Virginia District Meet. The team had a winning season, taking three out of five meets and ending the year with a notable victory over Washington-Lee.

Like the other varsity athletic teams of Wakefield, the 1954-55 Basketball Varsity established a new record this season. During the two seasons basketball has been played at Wakefield, the squad has been under the direction of Mr. Robinson. The coach has always believed in a small squad, allowing each member more attention. The Varsity team this season was composed of thirteen boys, most of whom were Juniors. Realizing the difficult schedule they had taken on, they played fine ball although they had a number of defeats. In spite of sickness, accidents and other hindrances Wakefield's Basketball Varsity established a record to be proud of.

WRESTLING

Varsity Wrestling was another of Wakefield's firsts this year. Considering the greater experience of their chief cantenders, which were W-L, Bladensburg, Suitland, Episcapal's B squad and Southern of Annapolis, the matmen's recard of faur wins and twa lasses is doably outstanding.

Wakefield's wrestling squad also distinguished itself at Charlottesville where one of the members placed third in the state in his weight class.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Wakefield's record on the baseball diamond showed a marked improvement this season. Better hitting, more skillful pitching, and more experienced players, combined with the "par excellence" of Mr. Irwin's coaching, made the mighty Warriors a formidable foe in the '55 season. Next year, with our coming of age as a senior high school, we can really expect to make our mark in baseball as well as in all other athletic activities.

This season twenty lettermen returned to form a nucleus of Wakefield's Varsity Track Squad. Although their schedule was similar to last year's, competition was more difficult, for the boys faced the varsities of Washington-Lee and George Washington in addition to the other schools. Among the returning veterans were Dave Cutcomb, hurdler and middle distance runner; Charlie Chalkley, 440 and 880 runner; Tommy Hines, Bill Loeffler and George Cochran, milers; Phil Brumbaugh and Dave French, pole vaulters; John Gibson, high jumper; Dave Mohrhardt, broad jumper and 220 runner; Vol Houghton, Dick Stamp and Larry Budge, discus; Chuck Johnson, shot put; and Tom Perkins, broad jump and 100 yard dash.

GOLF

This spring, Wakefield's first golf team was added to the wide variety of varsity sports available to students. Any senior high boy interested in an opportunity to learn and play golf was eligible. The club practiced two days a week and competed against Falls Church, W-L, Fairfax, G. W., Mt. Vernon, St. Albans, Suitland and Bladensburg during its season.

BOYS' INTRAMURALS

Through the well-organized Intramural system an opportunity is offered to every boy in the school, regardless of proficiency, to participate in organized athletics. Among the various sports offered are football, basketball, golf, swimming, volleyball, fawl shooting, wrestling, tennis and baseball. Mr. Stein, head of the Intramural program, is looking forward to improvements next year.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

This year the Varsity Cheerleading squad was composed of eleven girls, four less than last year's squad. The girls, happy and proud to represent Wakefield as cheerleaders, were chosen by a committee of faculty members and students. These girls support the school in all varsity sports activities. At football, basketball and baseball games and wrestling and track meets you can't help noticing them in their green and white uniforms cheering our team to victory. Their sparkling performance at games is due to the three days each week that they practice. Our hats are off to the Wakefield Varsity Cheerleaders.

Cheering Wakefield's Junior Varsity teams to victory this year were ten tenth grade girls who compose the Junior Varsity Cheerleading Squad. While the girls cheered at only five football and sixteen basketball games this year, next year's larger squad will cheer of many more.

The victorious Junior High athletic teams this year were solidly backed by the vivacious Junior High Cheerleaders who are under the direction of Dr. Price and Miss Carell. The girls with their peppy cheers helped the boys receive the enthusiastic support of the student body.

Our Community

The ever-increasing shopping centers of Arlington are a measure of our county's growth. Here are some of the outstanding businessmen who serve us daily.

From Memorial Bridge, gateway to Arlington, we see Lee Mansion, home of the great Confederate leader, and Arlington Cemetery, monument to our War dead.

"When better cars are built, Buick will build them" is an old motto that has really proven true this year. Carol Ann Smith and Tommy Hines have found Stewart Buick is the place to see this sensational car. A Stewart Buick salesman is showing Carol a booklet in which all the exclusive features are pointed out. Carol Ann and Tommy aren't in the market for a car right now but they are both Buick fans and feel Stewart Buick offers the best buy.

Entering Arlington by way of Memorial Bridge, we stop in Rosslyn at the modern lumber and building material company of Murphy and Ames. There we see Martha Rayfield and Chuck Purvis who, planning to make a bookcase, have finished purchasing some lumber cut to size and are now selecting some wood trim. Everyone who knows anything about carpentry or lumber knows Murphy and Ames is the place to go.

Is that Bill Gordon admiring the new Ford at Arlington Motor Company, Inc.? He and Janie Sale certainly know that the place to go for an economical car buy is Arlington Motors. Being a typical male, Bill is more interested in the motor and especially the number of miles it goes on a gallon. Janie likes the colorful upholstery and the modern interior. Maybe they are only looking now, as the car is a little too much for a teen-ager's pocket, but they are sure to return to Arlington Motors in the very near future.

thinking of a Pontiac, and you certainly should, don't forget
Brown Pontiac!

Here's a car everyone is interested in, the new 1955 Rocket Oldsmobile. The best place to see the new Olds is at Olmstead Motor Company on Wilson Boulevard, below Clarendon. That's where we are now watching Carol Dominick and Don Anderson try it out. It's too bad this picture can't be in color so that everyone could see the striking colors this car displays. Carol and Don both look pleased with what they see and agree Olmstead is the place to see it.

Lucky Wakefield students meet Greater Washington's most popular disc jockeys, WARL's top three. Al Lederle and Sally Powell are talking to Phil Long, well-known for his early morning "Long Time" and late afternoon "Salute to the Hillbilly Stars." He has urged the two visitors to be sure to attend his fabulous summer Saturday evening "Lawn Party," broadcast right from the back yard of the station with live hillbilly entertainment and free refreshments for the audiences. Too bad the kids missed Sam Brown, whose daily "Music Hall" from nine to twelve each morning has all Wakefielders tuning their dials to 780 each Saturday for the 30 top tunes. Sally has just been talking to Ray Armand, the Manager, and Connie B. Gay, whose name is synonymous with that of his program, "Town and Country Time," from twelve to three P.M. Mr. Gay has just pointed out that in addition to WARL being one of the most-listened-to stations in this area, The Family Station has the second largest hillbilly market in the world. Smart advertisers know they get results on WARL.
